Life preservers were thrown to the men, and they were hauled into the launch and the collapsed shell hauled alongside. A hid-den snag had been struck, tearing a big hole in the bottom of the shell. It cannot in all probability be repaired. A new shell, however, was received from Waters, of Troy, which the 'Varsity can use.

The game was a mazy, Oriental, languorinted performance from first to last. The Giants themselves yielded to the influence of the prevailing ennul.

Clark Griffith was the one live man of the Colt nine, but his work was too greatly overbalanced by the rest of the team to count for much.

Chicago could not hit Sullivan when hits were needed. Once McCormick lobbed feebly when the bases were full, and twice feebly when the bases were full, and twice founder pushed the ball gently into the infield when two white stockinged forms were dancing upon the sacks.

New York drew a blank each time until the fourth liming. The retirement in the first and third was in order, and in each of the two Griffith struck out a man.

The second had a tinge of activity, but it did not inst. Davis hit the ball to Dahlen, who gave the batter a good scare at first. Gleason woke up after two strikes had been called and made the first hit of the game, a fly into the uncovered territory between Lange and Ryan. "Ducky" Holmes did not feel the impulse which startled Gleason, but slept serenely while McComick handled to first his wabbly driven ball. Clark hit too hard toward Dahlen.

The circlet came to the short stop at the breast and he funbled it dangerously long before he got it into position to throw. He barely headed the runner at the initial lag.

In the inning in which the Giants won the game—the fourth—their runs were made after two men were out. Joyce, the first man at bat, was retired neatly on a bull caught by Kittredge. Davis followed with a hot liner to second, but was forced at the half way point by Gleason, who live to Counor. Had Dahlen got the ball from the second biseman's hands a moment earlier Gleason would have been doubled at first and the liming ended. Instead like son was safe and an instant later stole second. Holmes drew a pass to first and all the elements of disturbance were at land. Clark brought about the explosion. He samshed the balf reduct to Dahlen, who got his hands on it, but let it slip over his shoulder into left field. Gleason word handle the ball back into the liamond. Warner kept up the hitting pace with a centre field grounder, which tailled noth Holmes and Clark. Sullivan flew out of Ryan, leaving the runs of the inning at the e.
